This document is part 3 of the bcu Product and Access Facility Terms and Conditions (T&C). It has been produced to provide you with information about any fees or charges applicable to these bcu products and services.

This document together with the Product and Access Facility Terms and Conditions - Access, Savings and Investments (part 1) and the Interest Rate Schedule (part 2) were together previously known as our Product Disclosure Statement (PDS). Reference in other documentation to our Product Disclosure Statement is reference collectively to the Product and Access Facility Terms and Conditions (T&C), our Interest Rate Schedule and our Fees and Charges Schedule.

We recommend that you read this document in conjunction with the Product and Access Facility Terms and Conditions - Access, Savings and Investments and the current Interest Rate Schedule.

Section 1: Our fees and charges

Notification of changes

Terms and conditions and fees and charges may change at any time. If they do, we will give you 30 days notice, unless the change is in your favour.

Notification may be by mail, email, an advertisement in the media, via your statement or the bcu website.

Current schedules can be obtained on request at any store, by calling 1300 228 228 or from our website at www.bcu.com.au

Timing of fees and charges

Transaction fees and charges are accumulated during the month and charged to your product on the last day of the month for which they apply unless otherwise specified.

The loyalty rebate is calculated at the end of each month and is based on the combined average daily closing balances of loans (excluding credit cards), savings (excluding Retirement Savings Accounts), and overdrafts.

The product fee (previously known as the membership levy) will be charged to your product on the last day of the calendar month for which it applies.

GST on banking and financial services

The majority of mainstream financial services products are classified as 'input taxed'. This means that most standard banking transactions, including any repayments, fees, charges and interest will not be subject to GST.

Shareholding

Before opening a product or borrowing money in your own name you are required to become a shareholder of bcu.

To become a shareholder of bcu you must apply for one redeemable preference share at an issue price of $10.00, deferred in full until otherwise determined by the Board.

If you are under 18 years of age you must apply for one redeemable preference share partially paid to $2.00, deferred in full until otherwise determined by the Board. On reaching 18 years of age the balance of the issue price will be payable unless otherwise deferred by the Board. Your shareholding status is also automatically upgraded from a child shareholder to full shareholder at this time and you will commence paying any applicable fees at that time.

The issue price of shares is payable on demand.

Membership types

bcu offers two membership types.

bcu membership: For members with access to bcu stores and atms.

bcu remote membership: For members who do not have access to bcu stores and atms.

Within each of these membership types there are various products available. The tables on pages 10 to 13 set out the different products, their definitions, fees applicable, and whether or not fees paid are eligible under the loyalty rebate program.

Product fees and excess transaction fees

Our fees and charges have been structured around a monthly product fee, excess transaction fees, and a loyalty rebate program for eligible members.

Product fees and excess transaction fees will be debited to the savings product applicable to the member type with available funds.

Excess transactions performed on products will attract a transaction fee as outlined in tables 2 and 3. The number of free transactions is calculated across all products aggregated under the membership number and is detailed in tables 2 and 3.

Please note, if there are no available funds in your products for fees, they will be debited to your lowest numbered applicable savings product and will overdraw.

Eligibility

If at any time we become aware that you no longer meet the eligibility for a membership type, product type or any applicable exemptions, we may change your membership type, product type or remove any exemptions that apply and any fees and charges applicable to the changed membership type or product type will be applied accordingly from that date.

Section 2: Loyalty rebates

Loyalty rebates are not available to new members from July 15, 2012.

Existing Members (opened prior to July 15, 2012)

You can obtain up to 100% rebate of your product fee, overdraft facility management fee.

Please note that any other fees and charges that apply to savings or loan products as set out in section 3 of this fees and charges schedule, or your loan contract, are not eligible for the rebate.

The same rebate applies to business members operating an incorporated company, a partnership or as a sole trader with the additional benefit of the rebate being calculated across eligible memberships. Only personal memberships in the same name as the owner/s of the business are eligible to be linked. Only one business membership may be linked. The combined rebate is then applied to the business membership to a maximum of 100%.

It is the responsibility of business members to ensure that they notify bcu of the memberships and products that they wish to be linked and to review this regularly to ensure it is up to date. bcu accepts no responsibility for any reduction in available rebate due to members' products being incorrectly linked

Table 1: Loyalty rebate calculations

Combined savings, overdrafts and loans*	$	$	%

Balance between	5,000	34,999	10
Balance between	35,000	59,999	20
Balance between	60,000	89,999	30
Balance between	90,000	119,999	40
Balance between	120,000	149,999	50
Balance between	150,000	189,999	60
Balance between	190,000	219,999	70
Balance between	220,000	249,999	80
Balance between	250,000	279,999	90
Balance of	280,000	and over	100

* As previously noted, credit card, Retirement Savings Account and the Advantage Saver Account balances are excluded.

How the rebate is applied

For example:

1. A member with $180,000 in loans and $12,000 in savings is eligible to receive a total rebate of 70% (i.e. a total of $192,000).
2. A member with $160,000 in loans only will receive a rebate of 60%. If the product fee and eligible transaction fees in the month totalled $10, the rebate would reduce the total payable to $4.
3. A member with $200,000 in combined loans plus $120,000 in savings and overdrafts will receive the maximum rebate of 100%.
4. In the case of business members, the combined totals of rebates in eligible linked products are applied to one selected business membership. The rebates for each personal membership remain at the percentage calculated for that personal membership.

For example:

Personal membership 1 = 10%

Personal membership 2 = 20%

Business membership = 50%

Combined rebate applied to business membership = 80%

Rebate applied to personal membership 1 = 10%

Rebate applied to personal membership 2 = 20%

How the rebate is calculated

Loans: The balance used to calculate the rebate is based on the combined average daily outstanding balance of loans for any one membership.

Savings products: The balance used to calculate the rebate will be the average daily credit balance of all savings products less the average daily debit balance of any overdrawn savings products for any one membership.

Overdrafts: The balance used to calculate the rebate will be based on the daily debit balance (within limit) or the daily credit balance for any one membership.

For example:

1. Where an overdraft has a limit of -$1,500 and a daily balance of -$1,000, the balance on that day will be taken to be $1,000.
2. Where an overdraft has a limit of -$1,500 and a daily balance of -$1,600 (i.e. is over limit), the balance on that day will be taken to be $1,500.
3. Where an overdraft has a limit of -$1,500 and a balance of $100 (i.e. in credit $100), the balance on that day will be taken to be $100.
